Dear Mr Goodwill,

I have been disgusted by the amount of litter I see on our roads recently and especially around the Gatwick Airport area. The forwarded email below is one I sent to Highways as you can see. However I have had no response.

Does no one care about the state of our country when visitors arrive here? I have travelled in Europe on many trips and find our country to be the dirtiest when I return, most embarrassing.

I know that funds are limited but a clean country will attract more visitors, a camera at this one junction would pay for itself if litter prosecutions were followed up and what about lawbreakers on community service given the task of keeping the area clean?

I would appreciate you comments and answers to my original questions in the email below please.

Regards,
